No plans for the weekend yet? Then come along to see the doggies at Aberdeen Centre this Sunday.

At the 14th annual dog show, more than 80 dogs and their owners will be invited up on to the stage to perform, play games and present their costumes in the mall at 4151 Hazelbridge Way.

This year's theme is "Around the World with 80 Dogs."

"The dogs come from all over the world. Their owners will share the dogs' stories and help the audience to 'see' different parts of the world," said Joey Kwan, director of promotion and public relations for Aberdeen Centre.

The event is free for members of the public from 2 to 5 p.m., but no pets except dog contestants enrolled in the show are allowed in to the mall.

Registration to participate in the annual dog show is usually open during summer time and information is also available on the mall's official website (AberdeenCentre.com), according to Kwan.
