

Tropical delights
Weekend Profile, p. 7

ESTABLISHED 1932 SATURDAY, JULY 7, 2007 $5 PER COPY

Will the tram make a port stop?

Historian argues tram has no link to shipyard

By Matthew Henstra

Local historian
Somerset's historic main line, an extension to Barnstaple (1862),
and connecting it to the "port" area. "The idea, says a prominent local historian.

The Seabys Special

—The Devonian
Education Society worked on raising money and restoring the tram, which is 80 per cent complete, but lack of city support and other factors led to thoughts to move the tram to the port area. The idea, says a prominent local historian.

7 on 07-07-07

Some folks are making a big deal of today, since it's the seventh day of the seventh month of the seventh year. Our Adam Burish has most reasons to celebrate 07-07-07. Today, he turns seven.

INSIDE

Raw oysters now served with a warning, p. 5

School history exhibit in session at museum, p. 16

Sudoku
p. 12

Return-it
OK BOTTLE DEPOT
3100 Capital Hwy
10000
Call for more info
800-234-9000

CHIROPRACTIC WORKS
Experience the difference between "going by" and miracle health for yourself and your family.
If you are suffering — We Can Help • Headaches • Neck pain • Shoulder and hand problems • Low back pain • Digestive problems • Low energy
• Poor sleep • Asthma • Hay fever problems • Respiratory problems • Carpal tunnel
Minoru Chiropractic • 604-207-9050
Two Chiropractors to Serve You: Dr. Borelle Chuter & Dr. Carol Radwin www.minoruchiropractic.com • 625-7989 (Westminster Hwy) • Meads Place B1, B2 & B3

Lunch time
Neil Grace from Nelson offers a protoceratops some lettuce at Aberdeen Centre's dinosaur display. Fortunately, protoceratops is a vegetarian.
Mark Patrick photo